

Suicide Awareness Training Half Day Training

This course is aimed at professionals working with male victims of Domestic Abuse and provides an introduction to the impact of Domestic abuse on men, specifically exploring the stigma and barriers that males face when disclosing/reporting incidents. Across the world, a person dies by suicide every 40 seconds, which means that 800,000 people a year are dying by suicide.

What prompts a person to take his or her life? No one really knows—experts never get to talk to people who have committed suicide. They can only talk to those who are contemplating suicide or who survive it. By definition, that is a different group.

Suicide is the result of the interaction between many different factors and shouldn't be attributed to one single cause. The complexity of suicide is why prevention requires the involvement of many different sectors, agencies and services.

Learning Outcomes;

- ✓ Common thinking and myths around suicide.
- ✓ Understanding the risk factors for suicide.
- ✓ Recognising the signs of suicide intention in someone.
- ✓ Understanding suicide prevention strategies and how to use them.
- ✓ How to support someone to make a safety plan.

'A difficult topic, especially with lived experience of the issues raised. The trainer delivered a potentially triggering course sensitively with empathy. Thank you.' -Learner 2022
