

Mental Health First Aid Course

Adults

Cost: £165 +VAT per person

Delivery: In Person or Online

Mental Health First Aid (MHFA) for adults is a training program that teaches participants how to recognise and respond to signs and symptoms of mental health and substance use challenges. It's designed to equip individuals with the skills to provide initial help until professional support can be obtained.

Course Aims:

- To preserve life where a person may be in danger to themselves or others.
- To provide help to prevent the mental health problem from developing into a more serious state.
- To promote the recovery of good mental health.
- To provide comfort to a person experiencing a mental health problem.
- To increase mental health literacy.
- To increase confidence in providing mental health first aid.

Course Outcomes:

Learners will have:

- Gain a better understanding of mental health conditions, their signs, symptoms, and risk factors.
- Become more knowledgeable about the developmental factors that influence mental health.
- Be more confident in their ability to recognise and respond to mental health challenges.
- Develop practical skills in approaching, listening to, and supporting people in distress.
- Improve abilities to recognise and respond to crisis situations, such as suicidal ideation, and self-harm.
